HUMAN WAVE CHARGES US 105 ARTILLERY

Seen & Heard ♦ Around ♦ MURRAY

Did you ever walk down a dusty road in the summer time and see a big fly like insect about six feet ahead of you? When you almost get to him, he takes off and flies about six more feet.

This goes on for some time and sort of gets your goat because just before you get there he moves. You do not care to catch him or anything, but he gives the idea that he intends to stay just ahead of you, no matter what your pace might be.

That was a Robber Fly. This rascal eats other insects as if they were hamburgers. He likes common old houseflies.

Walking along Saturday being real careful and by golly all of a sudden we found ourselves flat on the sidewalk. We just got up and went on as if nothing had happened.

Death Toll For Holiday Is Reversed

by United Press International
The Christmas holiday weekend traffic toll in human lives reversed a recent upward trend today and the nation's motorists turned in one of the safest driving holidays in several years.

A total of 692 deaths were reported in traffic accidents during the 75-hour period which started at 6 p.m. Friday and ended Monday at midnight.

The National Safety Council had said in its pre-holiday estimate that between 650 and 750 persons would lose their lives on the nation's streets and highways. It was the first holiday in the last 10 in which a traffic death record had not been set.

Last year's weekend traffic deaths numbered 720, the third consecutive Christmas record.

The final United Press International count of highway death showed:

Traffic	692
Fire	105
Miscellaneous	86

California reported the heaviest toll with 56 traffic deaths. Texas followed with 52, and Ohio and Louisiana had 34 each.

NO ACCIDENTS

No accidents were reported over the holiday by the Sheriff's office this morning. Deputy Curt Willoughby reported that he had heard of no accidents in the county. Little other activity was reported.

Long 105's Fire Point Blank Into Fanatical Screaming Cong

By BRYCE MILLER

SAIGON (UPI) — A North Vietnamese force of up to 1,500 men today launched a fanatical human wave attack on outnumbered U.S. 1st Air Cavalry troops and inflicted heavy casualties in a battle which ended in hand-to-hand combat.

The Communists took numerous casualties themselves in their screaming charge through a Central Highlands valley in an attempt to overrun a force of up to 200 Americans defying a battery of 105 MM. artillery emplacements.

The artillerymen swung the howitzers into position and lowered the long barrels directly at the charges. The pointblank firepower was not enough in itself to deter the huge Communist force.

UPI photographer Bill Hall reported from the scene that the Communists fought through two platoons of 1st Air Cavalry troops and reached three of the six cannons before being beaten back.

The U.S. defenders, after temporarily losing radio contact, succeeded in driving the North Vietnamese back with the help of tactical air strikes, naval artillery and troop reinforcements who arrived by helicopter.

The battle raged between 1 a.m. and dawn in the Kim Son Valley, 12 miles west of Bang Son near the Central Highlands coast.

The attack was launched only shortly after the Communists entered an area at a landing zone site. The enemy force was estimated at battalions-to-regiment strength.

Five tactical air strikes rained nearly 10 tons of bombs on the Communist positions. A 7th Fleet destroyer offshore fired its heavy guns at an enemy base camp about 20 miles to the north.

Hall said one of the howitzers was knocked out of commission by a mortar round. Two others were temporarily damaged by antech charges planted by the North Vietnamese who reached the artillery battery.

In a dawn sweep south of the ill-fated battery, 44 North Vietnamese bodies were found. A 1st Cavalry commander told Hall that enemy casualties would mount considerably as the remainder of the area cleared.

The U.S. and South Vietnamese governments meanwhile found themselves faced with other serious problems in the war.

Double Threat

The strike of Vietnamese dockworkers in Saigon — already a crimp in the movement of vital military cargo today threatened to blossom into a nationwide walkout. The threat was made by Vietnamese labor leaders when U.S. troops arrived at the docks to unload cargo from American ships killed since Monday's walk-out.

Another threat arose that caused mounting concern over the stability of the U.S. military position in Thailand. The South Vietnamese Liberation Front.

Viet Cong today warned the U.S. ally that it would retaliate against Thailand if it continued to support the American war effort in Vietnam. There are now 33,000 U.S. troops and several airbases in Thailand — parts of which are less than 100 miles from North Vietnam.

Son Of Route Five Couple Is Killed

John Futrell, 34, step-son of Robert Davis of Murray Route Five and son of Mrs. Davis, was killed Monday in a head-on crash near Henderson, Kentucky.

Police also identified Frank Harper, 29 of Model, Tennessee as being killed.

Also killed in the two car collision were Charles Koon, 53 and his wife Dorothy 57, of Louisville. State police said that the car carrying Futrell and Harper sideswiped another vehicle.

Futrell's home was also in Model, Tennessee.

Income Tax Questions & Answers

This column of questions and answers on Federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The Column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q. — Do you ever have to pay income tax on a gift you receive when it is in money?

A. — Gifts are not taxable to the recipient. A large gift may, however, be taxable to the donor. A Federal gift tax return is required by the donor when a gift or gifts to any one person
during the year exceed $10,000 in value.

Q. — I'm a waitress and part of my income is from cash tips. Will the tip income be included on my W-2?

A. — The income you have reported to your employer for Social Security purposes will be recorded on your W-2 statement. If you received less than $20 in tips for any month and, therefore, did not report them to your employer, the tips will not be reflected in your W-2 statement. However, you must include these unreported tips in your income when you prepare your income tax return for the year. IRS Form 437 must be attached to your tax return if you received tips of $20 or more in any month and any of the amount over $20 was not reported to your employer.

Q. — Is it true that all individual income tax returns will be processed by your computer system
in 1967?

A. — Yes. All individual tax returns filed for the 1966 tax year will be handled under the IRS automatic data processing system. The information on these returns will become part of the master file being compiled at the IRS National Computer Center.

Q. — My 6th birthday is in December. Can I deduct my medical expenses for 1966 without reducing them by 3 percent of income?

A. — Your age on the last day of the year is the key factor. If you are 65 or older on December 31, 1966, medical expenses you paid during the year will be subject to the rules for those 65 or over. Thus, you need not reduce your medical expenses by 3 percent of income.

Q. — Why does a corporation need the social security numbers of its stockholders?

A. — This is required by law. Corporations must report dividend payments of $10 or more to IRS using the stockholder's social security number to identify the recipient.

Q. — I just started a job where I have an expense account to cover travel costs. How do I handle this for tax purposes?

A. — If you are required to account to your company for your expenses and your reimbursement
does not exceed these expenses,
then you do not have to report this on your income tax return. If the reimbursement exceeds your expenses then the excess must be reported as income on your return.
But if your allowable travel expenses
exceed your reimbursements the excess is deducted from gross income.
In this case, Form 2106 should be attached to your return. The form is available by writing a post card
to your District Director.

Q. — If I give a check in 1966
for a deductible expense, such as a charitable donation, but the check is not cashed until 1967, in what tax year should I deduct it?

A. — You should take the deduc-tion for the year in which you give the check.

Q. — Is there any limit on what I can deduct for gifts to my customers?

A. — Deductibility of gifts as a business expense is limited to a total of $25 to any one individual during the tax year. A husband and wife are considered one individual for the $25 gift test.

Gifts costing not more than $4 on which your name is clearly and permanently imprinted and which consist of a number of identical items distributed by you, such as pens or calendars, are not subject to the $25 rule.

Questions Answered On What Medicare Will Have To Offer

(Editor's Note: This is the fourth in a series of four articles, explaining extended care benefits under Medicare, prepared by the Paducah District Social Security
Office. To have the full explanation, Medicare eligibles should clip and save each article.)

by Charles M. Whitaker
District Manager

To close out the series of articles on extended care benefits,
we will answer some of the questions people are asking most frequently as you may have similar ones.

Question: My aunt has both Medicare plans and is now in a good nursing home. If she is still there on January 1st, is it possible for her to qualify for extended care benefits?

Answer: Yes, but only if she meets these conditions: She was hospitalized for at least three consecutive days and was discharged
from the hospital after June 30, 1966; and was admitted to the nursing home within 14 days from the date of her hospital discharge;
and was admitted for further treatment of the condition for which she was hospitalized; and the nursing home is approved for participation as an extended care facility.

Here is an example of a woman whose care would be covered on January 1, 1967:

Mrs. L. 67, was hospitalized on August 25, 1966, following a stroke.
By September 22, she had recovered enough so that she no longer required the intensive care provided by the hospital, but she still required continuous nursing care and other health services which she could not receive at home.

Mrs. L.'s doctor arranged for her to be transferred on September 28 from the hospital to an extended care facility where she could receive the continuous skilled nursing care and other services she needed. On January 1, 1967, Mrs. L. is still a patient there, and the nursing home has qualified as an extended care facility under Medicare.

Mrs. L.'s hospital insurance will help to pay for her care in the extended care facility for up to 100 days, starting on January 1, 1967, because she met all the requirements of the law.

Question: If a person has been receiving only personal or general care in a nursing home, could such care be paid for as extended care benefits if he goes to a hospital for a 3-day stay?

Answer: No. Extended care benefits are not intended for people who need only personal or general institutional care. Extended care benefits in a participating facility were included in the law to provide an alternative to further hospital care for patients who still need skilled nursing care but not all the other services hospitals provide.

Transfer to an extended care facility, in these cases, helps keep hospital beds available for those who need the more intensive type of care which hospitals provide.

Question: When a Medicare beneficiary uses up the entire 100
days of extended care benefits,
can he ever qualify for these benefits again?

Answer: Yes, but only if, for 60 consecutive days, the beneficiary is not a patient in a hospital or other institution that provides skilled nursing care. This would end his spell of illness. He would then be eligible again for up to

100 days of extended care benefits
in the next spell of illness if he had to be hospitalized again for at least a 3-day period.

Question: Will Medicare continue to pay for extended care services if the patient contracts a new illness while in the extended care facility? In other words, does Medicare pay if the patient has to stay longer, not for treatment of the condition which required hospitalization, but for the new condition?

Answer: Yes, provided the new condition arose while he was still being treated for the condition
for which he was originally hospitalized. Extended care benefits would be payable — as long as the services are medically necessary — for up to the maximum of 100 days in that spell of illness.

Interceptions Hurt South, Shrine Game

By CHARLES E. TAYLOR
United Press International

MIAMI 27 — Interceptions were the hallmark of the 1966 Shrine North-South All-Star game, and two of them knocked the Rebels out of a chance to rattle-dazzle from behind the way they like to in this series.

The Yankee team, full of stars from Notre Dame, Michigan State, Ohio and Illinois, won its 27-14 Monday night before 28,589 fans in the Orange Bowl. The South has made coming from behind nearly a tradition in the annual charity game, but a last-quarter interception by Army's Dean Hansen cut off the last slim hope of that this time.

This was the first of the major post-Christmas bowl games which will be followed by:

Dec. 31, Tennessee vs. Syracuse in the Orange Bowl at Jacksonville, Fla.; Georgia vs. Southern Methodist in the Cotton Bowl at Dallas; East-West Shrine game at San Francisco; Jan. 2, Alabama vs. Nebraska in the Sugar Bowl at New Orleans; Purdue vs. Southern California in the Rose Bowl and Georgia Tech vs. Florida in the Orange Bowl.

It was a defensive battle all the way. The Rebels were spread around but, significantly, the most valuable players were Pete Duranko of Notre Dame for the North and Gene Trench of Miami, Fla., for the South—a couple of defensively linemen.

Trench, Miami teammate Tom Reir and their rebel defensive back kept the Yankees out of the end zone in the first quarter, but Don

Time Out

By
GALE GARRISON

I have had several requests for a rating of the top ten teams in the region, to be run in the Ledger & Times. The requests may be withdrawn after today's rating.

Here is the way the "experts" in the Ledger & Times press room rated the top teams:

Place	Team	Points
1	Mayfield	68
2	Calloway Co.	64
3	Tilghman	62
4	St. Mary	45
5	Heath	43
6	Lowes	31
7	Benton	29
8	Carlisle Co.	28
9	Lone Oak	21
10	Hickman Co.	16

Four of these teams will be playing in the Paducah Christmas Tournament that is starting this afternoon. They are Calloway, Tilghman, St. Mary, and Heath.

The Tigers failed, last Tuesday night, to defeat the Benton Indians, and I failed to make the right prediction. I believe I will quit while I am ahead. After all I have only missed one prediction all year. "How 'bout that, sports fans?"

Congratulations to Vic Dunn on being selected to another All-State Football team. This is an honor that he very well deserves. Vic is also doing a fine job on the Tiger basketball team.

Due to the fact that we got a late start on running the "Cheerleader of the Week", and I may be in the middle of baseball season and still writing about basketball cheerleaders, I am going to have two this week.

Cardinals Not Too Far Behind Big Alcindor And Company

By FRED McMANE
UPI Sports Writer

NEW YORK 27 — The state of Kentucky is as big as ever in the college basketball picture, but this year the action has shifted some 75 miles northwest of where it usually happens.

This season it's the University of Louisville, not Kentucky, that is keeping the basketball tradition strong in the Bluegrass State and while UCLA seems to be in the class of the hardcourts thus far, the Cardinals don't appear to be too far behind.

Louisville continued its brilliant play this past week by boosting its record to 8-0 and in so doing became the leading challenger to UCLA in the weekly United Press International Board of Coaches major college ratings. Only games through Saturday, Dec. 24, count in the ratings.

Louisville, which hasn't had this kind of start since the 1960-61 squad won 13 in a row at the beginning of the season, by-passed North Carolina in the ratings this week as the majority of the 35-man UPI board named the Cardinals as the nation's No. 2 team.

The coaches, however, were nearly unanimous in their choice of UCLA as the No. 1 team for the fourth straight week. The Bruins were named first on 34 of the 35 ballots cast, with one coach still stubbornly maintaining Texas Western's supremacy.

7 Straight

The Miners, despite the loyalty of one coach, could not move from the No. 4 position they occupied last week as North Carolina continued along the unbeaten path with seven in a row to hold the third spot.

There was very little change among the top 10 this week with only Michigan State and Kansas suffering major setbacks. The Spartans suffered their first loss of the season to Loyola La. and dropped from fifth to seventh while the Jayhawkers were beaten by St. John's and fell from ninth to 12th.

New Mexico, which has won seven of eight contests, moved up one notch to fifth after beating North Dakota and Oregon; Cincinnati, undefeated in seven games, advanced one place to sixth after beating Colorado and Texas Christian, and Vanderbilt vaulted from 11th to ninth after whipping Florida and Northwestern.

Houston, with nine victories in 10 starts, and Boston College, undefeated in eight contests, retained their holds on eighth and 10th respectively.

St. John's benefitted greatly from its victory over Kansas and climbed from 14th to 11th while Tennessee moved up two places to 13th and West Virginia advanced three notches to 14th.

First Showing

Princeton and Seattle both made major leaps into the top 20 for the first time this year with the Tigers grabbing 15th place and the Chieftains taking 16th. Western Kentucky jumped two places to 17th while Kentucky and Virginia Tech were tied for 18th and Mississippi State and Colorado State deadlocked for 20th.

Illinois suffered the most surprising downfall of the week. The Illini scored three victories during the week but received hardly any backing when it was disclosed that school officials had suspended three members of the team.

Many fans are hoping that Louisville and UCLA get to meet in the NCAA playoffs this season and not all are convinced that the Bruins would emerge as the winners. Both teams have good sophomore players and each boasts a talented big man.

Louisville has 6-foot-9, 250-pound Westley Unsell, who finished second in the nation in rebounding last season, while UCLA has 7-1 Lew Alcindor, who currently leads the nation in scoring. Unsell, many believe, would give Alcindor a great deal of trouble under the backboard, thereby putting the burden on the Bruins outside shooting.

An Alcindor-Unsell matchup definitely looms as a good possibility come tournament time, and it may give the Cardinals a chance to prove whose really the best.

Five coaches from each of the seven geographical areas of the nation comprise the UPI Board. The balloting is tabulated on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis for votes from first to 10th.

Miss Karen Beatty and Larry W. Waltz Are Wed Sunday At Kuttawa Methodist Church

In a Christmas setting of white and red poinsettias, swags of greenery, and myriads of lighted candles, Miss Karen Beatty became the bride of Larry W. Waltz Sunday, December 18, at two o'clock in the afternoon at the Kuttawa Methodist Church. The pastor, Rev. A. L. Fraser, officiated at the single-ring ceremony.

The bride chose for her wedding a street-length gown of white silk, fashioned in an A-line silhouette. The modest bodice of the dress featured an oval neckline. To complete her ensemble, she wore an A-line coat, with elbow sleeves. A matching headpiece held her shoulder-length bouffant. She carried a white orchid on her childhood Bible, surrounded by lines of the valley and white satin streamers.

Her attendant wore a dark green velvet and pale green crepe street-length dress. Her headpiece was of matching green crepe, encased with red, orange and white carnations accented with red.

The groom's mother wore a green three-piece wool knit suit. Her accessories were black and her coverage was of white carnations, also accented with red.

A reception was held, following the ceremony, at the home of the bride's parents overlooking Bartley Lake at Eddyville. Refreshments were served to approximately fifty guests. Miss Mary Ellen Waltz, sister of the groom, and a junior at Ohio State University, presided at the punch bowl. Miss Mary Ann Pirtle of Smithland, roommate of the bride at Murray State University, served the cake.

Maurice Luckett of Princeton played several favorite piano selections as background music at the reception.

The couple left for a two-week honeymoon trip to the Florida Keys. For traveling the bride wore a blue paisley wool dress of her own making, a matching handmade hat and the orchid from her bridal bouquet.

Upon their return, they will finish the semester at Murray State University where Mrs. Waltz is a senior majoring in English and elementary education and Mr. Waltz is a junior in business. Mrs. Waltz will continue her studies until graduation in June. Mr. Waltz will return to Zanesville, Ohio, where he will open his new pottery shop and assist his father in "The Ohio Pottery" at Norwalk, Ohio.

The couple will make their home at Route One, Zanesville, Ohio, where they furnished mobile home is awaiting them.

Out-of-town guests attending the wedding and reception were: Dr. and Mrs. Robert B. Day of Radcliff; Mrs. Harold Garter, Allan B. Curtis, Roy Stewart of New Concord; M. and Mrs. William F. about what people might say. She thinks it is too soon for me to be taking anyone out.

To be honest, we are in love. Naturally, I wouldn't consider marriage until a full year, but I don't see anything wrong with our seeing each other and making plans.

DEAR MR. G: No. Providing you aren't silly about it and go on kicking up your heels in the bright lights.

DEAR ABBY: You might think this is a stupid question, but we have been discussing it for a long time and would like an answer. When a girl bends her leg at the knee while being kissed, what meaning is she trying to put across? You see it in the movies and on TV quite often. We have heard many different versions and would like your opinion.

DEAR ABBY: A little over 5 months ago my wife passed away after 43 years of married life. It was a very happy marriage. I only mention this so you will know that I am not a bitter man. I am a happy man. Recently I have been seeing a neighbor. I have taken her out for dinner a few times. She is single, and I have known her for many years. She is 69 and I am 64, but we could both pass for much younger as we are young in heart and mind. She has gone with me reluctantly because she is sensitive and extremely dangerous. I pro-

Friend's 'Business' Is Her Own

By Abigail Van Buren

TUESDAY, DECEMBER 27

DEAR ABBY: What is your opinion of a young mother who would rather go to work than stay home and take care of her 4-year-old son? I think it's terrible the way she drops the child off at a nursery every morning, just like you would put a dog in a kennel. She doesn't have to work as her husband makes good money.

And do you think a husband who really loved his wife would let her go out to work? Your opinion of such people will be appreciated. Don't reveal the town this letter is from. And please sign it.

DEAR "FRIEND": My opinion of "a friend" who appears to be inordinately concerned with somebody else's business is what comes to my mind at the moment. Would you like it?

DEAR ABBY: A little over 5 months ago my wife passed away after 43 years of married life. It was a very happy marriage. I only mention this so you will know that I am not a bitter man. DEAR ABBY: I don't know that the girl being kissed is trying to "put across" any particular idea, but from an observer's point of view, I would say that's the time she should keep both her feet on the ground.

Mr. Stork Slows Down In The U.S.

By PATRICIA McCOENMACK
United Press International
NEW YORK (UPI) — Mr. Stork isn't running up the white flag, but he's slowing down in the United States.

Even 3,759,000 babies were born in the U. S. last year, compared with a little over four million the year before. The all-time peak number of deliveries came in 1957. More than 43 million new births were recorded.

Item: Births this year will level off at around 3.6 million, he approximates level in 1950.

Item: The American Hospital Association reports that many of its community hospital members are finding half of their maternity beds empty.

Connected or not, the skid in births is accompanied by increased use of the birth control pill by American women.

In 1965, nearly half a million women used the pill. This year, authorities report five million American women are steady users.

Boon Ending
Statisticians at Metropolitan Life Insurance Co., reporting that the baby boom is ending, say the expected number of births this year corresponds to a rate of about 136 per 1,000 married women under age 45.

"It is considerably below the annual rates of the postwar years, since you your parents will be 'out your side.'"

Sometime during the 70's according to what the statisticians see in their crystal ball, new record highs should be reached.

A Glance at Glasses

SOFT OVAL shape for the flit of ladies is smart and extremely flattering.

TEENAGE boy's frame in a new banker's grey rides high and is dashing silhouette.

By TAD ROWADY

THE EARLY history of spectacles or eyeglasses as they are known now is rather hazy.

The first device to magnify writing was probably invented by Roger Bacon in the 13th Century although similar devices are believed to have existed in ancient times in China and in the Mediterranean civilizations.

Early frames were crude and clumsy and were not improved until the 18th Century when the principles of light refraction were applied and bifocals were devised by Benjamin Franklin.

But today the story is far, far different. Frames come in flattering shapes and colors—plain or jeweled—for all occasions.

So important are they to the overall fashion and beauty scene that for the second consecutive year the Fashion Eyewear Group of America has given awards for new, worthy frames of the year with fashion significance.

The purpose of the awards is to gain further public recognition for the great fashion efforts and talents expended by the American eyewear industry and to create a more definite acceptance by the many who must wear glasses now and in the future.

Eleven awards and eleven honorable mentions were given in as many categories including a special one—The Design of the Future.

Most of the frames were made of synthetic materials with mock tortoise shell leading the parade.

Many new and fashionable colors were introduced, such as canary yellow, pale blond, flesh tint, banker's grey and smoke.

Since two pairs are the minimum requirement, shape changeabouts can be fun to indulge in without straining the budget.

HIPPEST effect around for the teenage girl is a chic, unusual rectangular frame.

CASUAL frame for men in a smoke color is wide at temples for a masculine look.

SEEN & HEARD

pened. Wasn't much else to do.

Somebody asked if we looked around to see who had seen us fall and we told them no. Didn't make much difference because we could not change it anyway.

Well, we got a palsy tie for Christmas.

It's blue, green and red.

That reminds us of the joke about the mother-in-law who gave her daughter's husband two ties, a red one and a green one. He came out the next day wearing the red tie and she said "what's the matter, didn't you like the green one?"

Just goes to show you a fellow can't win.

Christmas becomes a little more difficult as the kids grow older. Time was when we could spread things around the tree like dinner on the ground and the sight was a joy to behold to the kids as we got them up on Christmas morning.

New things begin to get more expensive. When you buy clothes for kids as big as you are, they cost about the same as a man's clothes.

Then too the taste runs towards things like sports instead of a $1.50 mechanical toy.

Have you noticed how vacant the MSU campus looks? No cars are parked on North 16th Street and you can find a parking place most anywhere out around the university.

Looks sort of scary in a way.

Sooner or later a fellow reaches the "B" period: baldness, bridge-work, bifocals, and budge.

"It is always good to let a man leave you with the feeling that he is a little taller, not a little smaller, than he was before he met you". . . F. E. Mason.

If you're driving today, please drive carefully. I'm walking. If you're walking, be even more careful. . . my wife is driving.

Murray teenagers have a new twist for the March of Dimes. They will take your old Christmas tree and burn it for you for only 25c.

This is a much better plan than some adults had in Memphis. What they did was to collect old Christmas trees, wrap paper around the bottom of them, and then out and sold them for five trees. The trees were planted and in due course died, since they had no roots.

Congratulations to the teen-agers of Murray for this good and helpful idea. This is just another indication that we have some fine young people in our city. Miss Beth Blankenship is Teen-age Chairman.

Lambuth College Given Investments

JACKSON, Tenn. (AP) — Lambuth College has been given $106,476 in investments by a retired professor, it was announced Monday.

Dr. John S. Wilder, Lambuth president, said the gift was the largest single donation ever made to the college by an individual still living.

The donors were Arthur E.

Negotiations On Kennedy Book Are Delayed Today

NEW YORK (AP) — Lawyers for both sides in Mrs. John F. Kennedy's effort to suppress parts of "The Death of a President" today sought more time to negotiate an out-of-court settlement.

Their talks, recessed over the Christmas holiday, had been scheduled to resume Monday but were cancelled because of the illness of William Manchester, author of the book on the Kennedy assassination.

State Supreme Court Justice Saul S. Streit was expected to be asked today to set a new hearing date on Mrs. Kennedy's application to enjoin Harper & Row from publishing the Manchester book.

"Very depressed" as a result of the controversy, Manchester was down with a slight case of pneumonia but reported to be responding to treatment at Middlesex Memorial Hospital in Middletown, Conn.

As precaution, the 44-year-old writer remained on the critical list and was expected to be hospitalized about a week barring complications in his recovery. While researching the book early last year, Manchester was hospitalized one month from nervous exhaustion.

Dr. F. Edwin Tracy, the family physician, said Manchester's resistance to illness had been impaired recently, probably because of worrying about Mrs. Kennedy's lawsuit.

"The pressure lowers his resistance so he catches things more easily," the doctor said. "He has been very depressed."

Tracy called an ambulance for Manchester early Monday morning when the author's temperature rose to 104 degrees. The illness was later diagnosed as pneumonia of the lower left lung. Under antibiotic treatment, his temperature returned to normal during the day.

"Believe on critical bridge keep him isolated," the doctor explained. He said Manchester is expected to be able to do some work next week.

Apparently confident her presence would not be required in the continuing negotiations with Harper & Row, Mrs. Kennedy and her two children Monday night flew to Antigua in the British West Indies for a two-week vacation. A nursemaid, a Secret Service agent and a child identified as C. Nelson also went along.

Asked To Pray For Miniskirted Women

RABAT, Morocco (AP) — Moroccan schoolchildren are being asked to pray for the salvation of women who wear miniskirts.

The skirts, said Morocco's 37-year-old King Hassan, offend the "principles of decency and virtue." The Moroccan news agency reported today that the monarch denounced the wearing of miniskirts in a religious meeting Sunday night. He said Hassan "expressed his disapproval of incorrect dress on the streets — especially that of mothers and young girls wearing miniskirts."

The king was reported to have said that miniskirts offend the principles of decency and virtue not only commit a crime against her children and family, but against God.

Evans and his wife, Dr. Blanche Evans, also a former professor at the college.

"We believe we are giving to a stable institution which has been a strong influence for good — intellectually, socially and religiously," Dr. Evans said.
